TWO HIGHWAY
MEN SERVED
SUBPOENASInvestigate Contracts
For Highways in
Cook County

Springfield, Ill., July 22.—(AP)—Subpoenas were served on two officials of the state highway division today in the Federal investigation of contracts for highway construction in Cook county.

Charles P. Casey, assistant director of Public Works and Buildings, one of the officials named, said the subpoenas called for records of 36 projects and that he would submit them tomorrow to Federal authorities in Chicago.

Casey said he and M. J. Fleming, assistant highway engineer also subpoenaed, probably would confer later today with Attorney General Otto Kerner.

Start of Investigation
The Federal investigation grew out of the controversy over Democratic primary campaign expenditures. U. S. Attorney Michael L. Igoe, defeated Democratic senatorial candidate, two weeks ago announced he had begun an inquiry into charges that highway division payrolls had been padded in the Chicago area.

Casey and Fleming both declined public comment, but the former remarked:

"I don't know what it's all about, but we are always ready to produce the records of highway contracts." U. S. Judge William H. Holly issued the subpoenas at the request of Warren Canaday, assistant to Igoe.

The original subpoenas, issued yesterday, named F. Lynden Smith, director of Public Works and Buildings, and Ernest Lieberman, chief highway engineer.

Vacationing in Wisconsin
Because both were vacationing in Wisconsin, Paul E. Ruppel, Federal marshal here, was unable to serve the orders and new subpoenas were issued for their chief assistants, Casey and Fleming. Ruppel said the subpoenas were expected here today.

Igoe was defeated in the primary for the senatorial nomination. Smith was campaign manager for the winning ticket sponsored by Governor Horner. Payroll padding charges were first heard in the 1936 primary.

Warren Canaday, Igoe's chief assistant, said the investigation of the 28 Cook county road projects was started after the bids were rejected. New bids were about 20 per cent lower, he said, adding that the original bids were $400,000 under Lieberman's estimates.

Supervisors Seek Aid of Government

The board of supervisors in the closed door session yesterday afternoon decided to file two projects for Federal aid. A resolution, which was adopted by the board, provided that application be made with the Public Works Administration for a federal grant in the construction of the much discussed Binghamton bridge.

It was also voted to file a project with the Works Progress Administration for federal relief in providing work for the unemployed of Lee county on a project which would benefit townships which have signed an intention to outline work relief programs. The road and bridge committee is in session today drafting a project to be submitted to the WPA at an early date.

In anticipation of county construction projects, representatives of a cement finishers organization, yesterday afternoon filed a schedule in the county clerk's office, calling for a wage scale of $1.25 per hour for this trade.

State Civil War
Veteran is Dead

Homer, Ill., July 22.—(AP)—John B. Wood, 93, last surviving veteran of the Civil war here, died today of pneumonia. He was picked while preparing to attend the last encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Gettysburg, Pa., early this month. Wood was a native of Lawrenceville, Ill., and lived there most of his life. He enlisted with the Union army in Indiana and served 1½ years in Georgia. Since the death of his wife 15 years ago he had made his home near here. Interment will be in Louisville, Ill.

His Epitaph

New York, July 22.—(AP)—They wrote a modest little epitaph—"died in the line of duty"—for Rex II at the No. 8 firehouse today.

That didn't tell the whole story, of course. It didn't tell how Rex, the station's dog mascot for three years, loafed on the sidewalk or scrapped with the Sparky the tomcat, waiting for action. At the sound of the big bell he would listen for the eighth stroke before leaping to his place on the rear of the truck.

Wednesday he rode to a fire, leashed to the truck, as usual, but somehow the collar slipped and the Dalmatian was run over. He died yesterday.

Michigan City, Ind., July 22.—(AP)—State policemen investigating the death of Abner Dilley, Jr., who was found shot to death on the Indiana Dunes, ordered a thorough search today for the missing weapon.

The body of the 18 year old youth, a bullet wound in the forehead, was found yesterday partly submerged in Lake Michigan near Indiana Dunes park. His pet shepherd dog also was found dead of a bullet wound in the head.

Dilley, son of a Grand Rapids, Mich., attorney, arrived at the park auto camp Wednesday night with his companion and schoolmate, John Read, 20, of Cincinnati. The youths, students at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, were returning from a trip through the west.

Read, accompanied by Abner Dilley, Sr., appeared voluntarily at state police headquarters in Indianapolis last night and Detective Arthur Keller said, submitted to lie detector and paraffin tests. Keller said the tests showed Read proved he had no connection with the death. Keller said Read was not under arrest.

Coroner Carl Davis of Porter county said last night the death "appears to be suicide" but added he would not set a date for an inquest "until I see what develops." Dr. Davis said Read told him Dilley had been moody at times.

Says NLRB Hostile
To the A. F. of L.

Philadelphia, July 22.—(AP)—Warner D. Curry, president of the Philadelphia Central Labor union, representing American Federation of Labor units, said today he had advised all affiliated organizations to ignore the national labor relations board.

"The board," he said, "has shown itself hostile to the A. F. of L. since it has shown itself to be a partisan agency favoring the interests of John L. Lewis and his CIO." Curry said the Central Labor union would be asked to adopt his suggestions at the regular meeting next month.

Anent Shaving

State College, Pa., July 22.—(AP)—Other things being equal, the man whose shirt has longest is the man who shaves most frequently. J. Fred Osterling, research assistant in textile chemistry at Pennsylvania State College said today.

"Neck whiskers, if they are not shaved off every day, abrade the fabric of the shirt at the collar. Of course this lessens the life of the collar and the shirt as a whole," he said.

Free Cooking Lessons for Brides
Offered in St. Louis Marrying War

St. Louis, July 22.—There's competition brewing for St. Louis county's lucrative "Gretchen Green." Free cooking lessons with every wedding were promised today by Justice of the Peace John Soutiey, who frankly admitted he was seeking some of the business that keeps self-styled "Marryin' Justice" George R. Hart busy day and night.

"A man has to make a living, and this looks as good as anything else," Soutiey grinned as he hung over his door a sign reading "This place will be a marriage parlor after August 1. Free cooking lessons for brides. Always open." Hart, the marriage maestro who is nearing the 10,000th wedding mark, paused between his ninth

CATAPULTED
FLYING BOAT
CROSSES SEAGerman Craft Arrives
In U. S. After a Non-Stop Trip

Port Washington, N. Y., July 22.—(AP)—Germany's 19-ton catapult flying boat, Nordmeer, alighted on the water at this transatlantic airport at 7:42 A. M., C. S. T., today after a non-stop flight of 2,397 miles across the Atlantic from the Azores in 17 hours, 42 minutes.

It had been tossed into the air at a speed of about 110 miles an hour at 2 P. M., C. S. T., yesterday by its mother ship, the Schwabenland, at Horta, the Azores. The Nordmeer averaged 133 miles per hour on the flight. Nordmeer's transatlantic flight began just eight minutes before Great Britain's seaplane Mercury arrived here after another Transatlantic flight.

The huge German plane, powered with four oil-burning Diesel engines, passed over the Mercury as she came in to her landing.

Aboard Nordmeer were Capt. Joachim Von Blankenburg, veteran Transatlantic flier, Co-Pilot Otto Brix, Radioman Wilhelm Kueppers, and Flight Engineer Alfred Eger.

Met By Attache
The crew was met by Frederick Von Boteicher, military and air attaché of the German embassy in Washington, by Dr. Rudolf Jahn, New York director of Luft Hansa, the German flying company, and by immigration officials in addition to staff members of Pan American Airways.

In the harbor lay the German catapult ship Friesenland which, next will toss the Nordmeer out into the air on her homeward journey, completing the first of 14 round-trip exploratory flights to New York planned by Luft Hansa this summer.

Next month, Air France, the French flying company, will start the first of five or six planned flights from Bordeaux to Port Washington. The Mercury was groomed today for its return flight to Ireland after opening a new and significant chapter of Transatlantic air travel.

Capt. Donald C. T. Bennett brought the Imperial Airways experimental craft down here late yesterday, convinced he had demonstrated the feasibility of launching heavily-laden planes in mid-air.

The Mercury brought a 1,000-pound cargo in addition to its pilot and Radio Operator Albert Coster to the airways terminal a little more than 25 hours after its takeoff from the bank of a mother plane off the coast of Ireland.

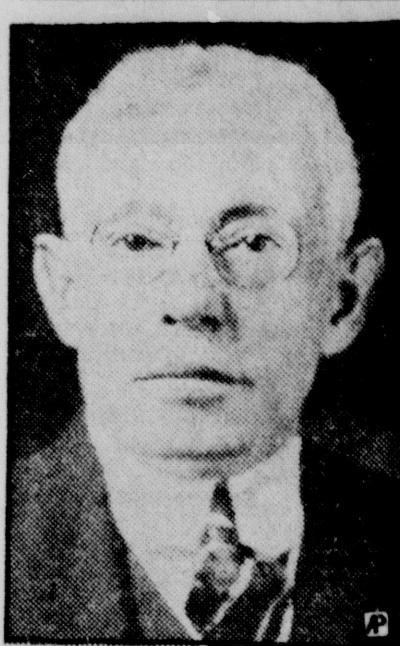

"Has Possibilities"
"This system of launching," 25-year-old Captain Bennett said, "has great possibilities. I can conceive of a couple of mother ships launching whole fleets of heavily-laden bombers in wartime."

Drag Lake for Two Men Near Geneseo

Geneseo, Ill., July 22.—(AP)—Workmen were dragging Penny's Slough, known as Shadow Lake north of here today for the bodies of Thomas N. Cowden, 26, and Harry R. Johnson, 37, both of Cambridge, who are believed to have drowned early last night.

The men went to the lake early Thursday evening to test an outboard motor. When they failed to return at 1 A. M. their wives went to the lake and found the boat overturned in the water.

Success Story

Founder and head of the great grocery company which bears his name, who died last night at his summer home at Cape Cod, death resulting from a heart attack. The story of his successful career will be found below.

FOUNDER HUGE
GROCERY CHAIN
SYSTEM IS DEADBernard H. Kroger of Cincinnati Victim of Heart Attack

Cincinnati, July 22.—(AP)—Bernard Henry Kroger, 78, founder of one of the country's largest chain grocery store systems, died last night of a heart attack in his Cape Cod summer home at Wianno, Mass. He had been in frail health for several years.

Kroger retired from business six years ago after building his organization from one store in 1884 to nearly 5,000, employing more than 19,000 persons throughout the middle west.

Funeral services are to be held in Cincinnati, where he was born in 1860.

Out-Fused Housewives
Kroger built one of the country's greatest business houses, and a huge personal fortune, by out-fusing the fussiest housewives.

At the start of his career as a merchant he did the fussing himself, scanning with super-critical eye everything disgruntled grocery salesman put before him. When his little store grew to a great chain he engaged others to do it for him, establishing a great laboratory, staffed with food experts and chemists.

His whole purpose was to satisfy the most critical housewife out shopping for her family. Satisfying the less critical, he maintained.

Apparently it did. He started with an idea, a little store in downtown Cincinnati, and an errand boy. Fifty years later, in 1932, the Kroger Grocery & Baking Company which he founded operated 4,844 stores in nearly a thousand communities in the Middle West, thirteen bakeries, three packing plants, two beverage plants, a candy factory, and its own plants for roasting coffees and packing teas and spices, the whole engaging some 19,000 employees.

By Hard Experiences
Yet he little more than stumbled into grocery salesmanship, and learned his principles only by hard experience.

Kroger, born January 24, 1860, the fourth of a family of eight children, had to share some of the load after failure of his father's dry goods business in the panic of 1873. He became a drug store clerk, but

Death Came to Harry A.
Roe at His Dixon Home
on Thursday AfternoonProminent Lee County Man Had Been Ill for Some Time

Harry A. Roe, beloved citizen of Dixon and for many years prominent in business, passed away at the family residence, 526 East Fellows street last evening about 4:30 o'clock. He had been in failing health for several months, but was able to be about his home and to take automobile rides.

He was born in Bloomington, Ill., April 8, 1874, the son of Dr. Nathaniel C. and Florence R. Roe, who in early life came to Illinois with their respective parents and were pioneer settlers of Franklin Grove. After attending the public and high schools in Lee county, Mr. Roe continued his education in the Spencerian university of Cleveland, Ohio. He afterwards spent four years in Chicago and in December, 1896, he came to Dixon to accept a position of deputy circuit clerk and recorder, serving respectively under Arvine S. Hyde, Ira W. Lewis and William B. McMahon until 1904.

Established Business
He then established an abstracting and farm loan business in which he was highly successful and continued in this business from 1904 until his recent illness forced retirement due to failing health.

On June 8, 1897, Mr. Roe was united in marriage with Miss Mae L. Hyde, a daughter of Jonathan N. Hyde, one of the pioneers of Lee county. To this union three children were born, all of whom, with the widow, survive. They are Mrs. Edwin Burg of Chicago and John C. and Franklin H. Roe of this city. One sister, Mrs. Ralph L. Zarger of this city also survives, together with five grandchildren.

Mr. Roe in his young manhood was an active athlete and was a devoted follower of many sports. He was one of the founders of the Dixon Country club and continued as one of its most active members until failing health prevented his participation in its activities. He was prominent in Masonic bodies and served as Eminence Commander of Dixon Commandery, No. 21, Knights Templar. He was also actively affiliated with Dixon Lodge, No. 779, B. P. O. Elks, in his active life and his public service he gained the high regard of all who knew him and in business life, he was equally admired.

Funeral services will be conducted at the residence Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the Rev. Herbert J. Doran, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of which he was a member, officiating. Entombment will be in the Oakwood Memorial mausoleum. An escort of past commanders of Dixon Commandery, No. 21, Knights Templar, will have charge of the committal service. The casket bearers will be Oliver Rogers, W. H. Coppins, Alfred Rowland, E. B. Raymond, Mark C. Keller, F. X. Newcomer, E. M. Goodsell and Dr. A. F. Moore.

Martin Lally Died
at Midnight Hour

Martin Lally, resident of Dixon and Marion townships for many years, passed away at midnight last night at his home, 123 East Second street. In 1936 he suffered a fractured hip when he fell at his home and had been ailing since. He had recovered sufficiently to be out but his health continued failing until his peaceful passing.

Mr. Lally was born in Silver Creek, N. Y., and came to Illinois with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Lally, as a young man, settling on a farm in Marion township. He was united in marriage to Barbara Frances Loftus and to this union five children were born. He was preceded in death by his wife, a daughter Katherine and a son Warren. Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Charles Kearney, Miss Genevieve and Miss Frances of this city; a grandson, Charles Kearney, and a brother Edward of Dixon.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday morning at 9:00 o'clock at the residence and at 9:30 at St. Patrick's Catholic church with interment in Oakwood.

Waukegan, Ill., July 22.—(AP)—Meyer Adelman, C. I. O. organizer who was indicted recently for conspiracy and intimidation in connection with the strike at the Chicago Hardware Foundry company, North Chicago, Ill., was released under $2,500 bond today.

Adelman was returned from Elkhart, Ind., where he had been arrested for Waukegan authorities by Deputy Sheriff Walter Atkinson.

Adelman was returned from Elkhart by Michael Ostroski, of Sterling, who was in charge of the pickets routed Tuesday by tear gas.

Pickets were permitted in little groups at the plant today.

FDR'S VACATION
LEADS HIM TO A
TROPIC MYSTERY

Aboard U. S. S. Houston, En Route to Panama, July 22.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's vacation fishing cruise led him today toward the Galapagos islands, locale of one of the strangest mystery death stories ever to come out of the tropics.

The weird death story of the Galapagos, lying along the Equator 500 miles west of Ecuador, involves a supposed paradise once ruled by a German baroness, whose regal garments were a sun and a pair of pink silk panties.

In 1934, the bodies of two men who had died of thirst were found on bleak Marchena island, one of the Galapagos group.

They were identified as Arthur Rudolph Lorenz, former Parisian, and a Norwegian sailor named Nuggerdor. Lorenz was known to have lived in a colony of Charles Island headed by the Baroness Eloise De Wagner.

How the two men ever got to Marchena island never was solved. Subsequently, it was learned the baroness and a companion, Robert Philipson, who possibly could have shed some light on the death mystery, sailed one day for the South Seas, never to be heard from again.

The disappearance of the baroness and Philipson was revealed in a letter written by Dr. Frederick Ritter, German nudist who has lived for years on the strange island with his wife.

Mrs. Brill explained she had fallen into the chilly waters of the state fish hatchery trout pond on Galena creek, west of Reno, while she was trying to grab a few brook trout with her hands.

Hangman Dead

Montreal, July 22.—(Canadian Press)—"Hangman Ellis," who became almost a legendary figure across Canada whenever an execution was scheduled, died last night at the age of 73.

His real name was Arthur Bartholomew Alexander English and in a quarter-century as Canada's unofficial hangman he had earned a small fortune. Although sheriffs are responsible for executions in Canada they usually called in "Hangman Ellis."

How many persons were hanged by the rosy-complexioned little figure in tall hat and frock coat—always wearing a white carnation—probably never will be known.

But "Hangman Ellis" himself often spoke of 500 and once mentioned "600 executions in my 27 years as an executioner."

BALLY-HO FOR THIRD TERM ON
SAYS HAMILTONG. O. P. Chairman Holds
Hopkins' Remarks Indicate Propaganda

Washington, July 22.—(AP)—Harry Hopkins' assertion that 90 per cent of federal relief recipients favor the Roosevelt administration aroused today a Republican cry of "launching the Roosevelt third term movement."

The WPA administrator told reporters yesterday the reason for the relief workers' attitude was that "we're the only crowd that has anything constructive to offer."

John Hamilton, Republican national chairman, immediately called his remarks evidence of an effort by the Roosevelt administration to "perpetuate itself in power." Chairman Sheppard (D-Texas) of the House campaign investigating committee, said he would study the matter.

Meanwhile, it was learned that Joseph B. Keenan, an assistant to the attorney general, had made cryptic references to third-term possibilities during a speech at a Virginia political rally.

"From time to time the question is asked, will so-and-so seek office or attempt to succeed himself? It seems to me that this is thinking in reverse. Individuals do not choose to be President of the United States. Presidents are chosen by the people," said Keenan, one of the administration's political counselors.

Questions about a third term for Roosevelt were put to Hopkins at a press conference. He turned them aside.

Hamilton, however, asserted Hopkins was referring to the 1940 presidential race in his general statements about WPA voters.

"Obviously the Roosevelt administration is seeking to perpetuate itself in power through the use of relief funds, because as the President said in 1936, 'Every message in a pay envelope, even if it is the truth, is a command to vote according to the will of the employer,'" Hamilton said.

TELLS JAPAN
TROOPS WILL MOVE AT WILLNipponese Not Disposed to Force
Their Demand

Moscow, July 22.—(AP)—Soviet Russia made clear in plain words today she would move troops as she sees fit along her Far Eastern frontier, but that if there is to be a war over the matter Japan would have to start it. This, to foreign circles here, appeared unlikely.

The Russian government's sharp rejection of Japanese demands for withdrawal of troops in territory claimed by both nations, from the Soviet standpoint, simply called Tokyo's bluff.

The next move was left squarely up to Japan.

The Russian stand was set forth last night in a communique detailing Foreign Minister Maxim Litvinoff's reply to representations of the Japanese ambassador, Mamoru Shigemitsu.

The disputed territory is near the junction of Siberia, Manchoukuo and Japanese Korea. Of troop movement there the communique said:

"Soviet detachments in this region have no other purpose than defense of the status quo of our frontier. Unlike other countries, the Soviet Union maintains armies not for invasion, but exclusively for the defense of its own borders."

The Japanese demand for withdrawal of the troops was rejected as "unjustified and unacceptable," since Russia regards the territory involved as Russian.

The communique said Litvinoff told the Japanese ambassador that although threats of armed force might be good diplomacy elsewhere, "such methods will not succeed in Moscow."

Shigemitsu, who presented the latest Japanese demands on Wednesday, suggested a new delineation of the border after a joint investigation "on the basis of material possessed by both sides."

WON'T FORCE ISSUE

Tokyo, July 22.—(AP)—Statements of Japanese official spokesmen tonight indicated Japan had no intention of forcing the issue with Soviet Russia over Soviet troops' occupation of a disputed district near where the borders of Soviet Siberia, Japanese Korea and Manchoukuo come together.

Nevertheless the Tokyo press continued to report concentration of Soviet military and naval forces near the danger zone.

Tatsu Kawai, the foreign office spokesman, denied Japan ever had threatened to use force to eject the Russian troops from the Changkufeng district, occupation of which July 11 provoked the bluster crisis.

Kawai asserted that Mamoru Shigemitsu, Japanese ambassador at Moscow, merely had proposed to foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff when they met Wednesday that the troops be withdrawn as a preliminary to "a general compromise." He denied that Shigemitsu had either said or implied that force might be used.

Several beautiful trophy cups to be presented to winners of events in Sunday afternoon's show at the Dixon Municipal Airport were this morning placed on display at the Trein jewelry store. Three of these fine trophies are to be presented to winners in the mile race for commercial planes. In this event any ship will be permitted to enter, but trophies will be awarded to commercial ships only.

The cup for the winner of this race is sponsored by the Dixon Home Lumber & Fuel Company, second place trophy by Brady Village and the third cup by the Oscar Johnson Buick-Pontiac agency. The trophies are the most beautiful that have been provided for any previous air show in this vicinity.

All of the pilots who will participate in the stunt event Sunday afternoon, were at the airport at noon today with their planes. Last minute checks of the planes were being made after noon and the ships seen in maneuvers over Dixon surrounding cities this and Saturday. The commercial Lee County Voltaire, 40 and 8, assured of the presence of about 50 other pilots who will bring their planes to the airport to participate in the events scheduled for Sunday afternoon.

32 Cows at Hampshire Averaged 58.4 Lbs. of Butterfat

Urbana, Ill., July 22.—(AP)—The dairy herd at the Inka Farms of Hampshire, Ill., established a new monthly butterfat production record for Illinois dairy herds for 1938, according to a summary of reports of dairymen improvement associations for June.

J. G. Cash, dairy extension specialist of the College of Agriculture at the University of Illinois, said the Kane county herd of 32 cows averaged 58.4 pounds of butterfat a cow. The previous high production record for the year was 56.6 pounds set by Walter Splinter's herd of Winslow, in March.

Cash said two other herds finished June with production above the 50-pound mark. Jacob Yakey's herd of Stewardson averaged 56.5 pounds of butterfat a cow, and John Steinman's herd of Melvin averaged 50.2 pounds a cow.

For the second consecutive month, the Moultrie County Dairy Herd Improvement Association ranked first among associations with a production of 36.3 pounds of butterfat a cow.

State Average 29.1 Lbs.
The state average for the 28,216

cows on test was 29.1 pounds of butterfat a cow.

Mrs. Oscar Johnson, Psychologist, Speaks at Wa-Tan-Ye Dinner

An intimate glimpse of the task facing state hospital staffs in caring for the thousands of patients requiring treatment for mental defects was visualized last evening by Mrs. Oscar Johnson, psychologist at the Dixon State hospital, for members of the Dixon Wa-Tan-Ye club. The occasion was the club's monthly dinner meeting at Watson's tea room.

Choosing for her subject, "The Art of Living," Mrs. Johnson described the various types of cases which are brought to her attention in her daily work, and explained methods of treatment. She traced progress made in the study of mental hygiene, recommended "early training of children toward good mental health, which will enable them to be able to take the bad with the good later in life," and described a well-integrated personality as one equally balanced in regard to work, play, and social surroundings. Mrs. Olive Boos, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

Mrs. Lucile Poole, the club president, conducted a brief business meeting, asked for routine reports, and introduced two guests, Miss Mary Mell of San Jose, Ill., houseguest of Miss Naomi Woll, and Miss Lois Stimeling. Miss Woll was at the piano for group singing of Wa-Tan-Ye songs, led by Miss Leone Ortt.

Miss Boos has invited the club to the Boos cottage on the Rock river near Nelson for a picnic supper Wednesday evening. Mrs. Elsie Burns, Mrs. Merle Potter, Miss Helen Parker and Miss Frances Lally are to compose the committee. Further plans will be announced later.

Miss Woll, Mrs. Burns, and Miss Lois Fellows were hostesses last evening.

DEKALB GOES CIVILIZED
 In DeKalb, just prior to July 4th, a drug store was demolished by an accidental explosion of a stock of fireworks. The damage was confined to the one store, but the lethal potentialities were enough to make the DeKalb city council sit up and look around. So on Tuesday the council passed a city ordinance which makes it illegal to either sell or explode fireworks of any kind within the corporate limits of DeKalb.

If DeKalb can be civilized to that extent why not Dixon? The time will come when all cities will do likewise.
 Or shall we wait until some tragic accident forces us
 to take the action—too late?

THE GREATEST GOOD TO THE GREATEST NUMBER
 Railways employ such a large number of persons,
 they are so inextricably woven with every other industry or activity in the country that the public is likely to look at their problems as something to be solved with an eye to
 the greatest good to the greatest number.

As an industry it has to deal with the shipper, with the coal industry and other producers, with the workers, with the investors and with the taxing bodies. Each has his own claim upon the railway dollar. There is a constant controversy about a surplus dollar in the treasury.
 More recently there has been impatience about waiting until there is a dollar in the treasury. Demands have been such as to prevent there being anything in the treasury.

The greatest good to the greatest number looks to employment of the largest possible number of persons to man the railways. It looks to employment of the largest number of persons in the industries from which the railways make their purchases. It looks to regular payment of the wages of the money used to finance operations, as long as that money is working.

When we have only half as many men working to man the railroads as might profitably be used, we have a maladjustment that is not doing the greatest good to the greatest number, especially if the policies mean laying off half the men who have been employed. If the railways
 so are impoverished that they can not make formal purchases, the policies are not in the interest of the greatest number. If money that is a necessity in railway operation does not receive its wages when it is working, then the policies are not in the interest of the greatest number.

That is what was meant by H. A. Enochs, chairman of the railroads' joint conference committee, on occasion of a conference on the proposed 15 per cent wage cuts, when he said more briefly:

"The situation today differs from that of a year ago when labor won a pay increase. While men regularly employed on the railroads now are receiving the highest wages in history, thousands of their fellow workers are being laid off, and the investors are receiving next to nothing as a return on the savings they have put into the railroads."

ON LEGALIZING LOTTERIES
 At almost every session of congress since the depression began a bill has been introduced calling for repeal of the statute against use of the mails to promote lotteries.
 Movements have been afoot to repeal anti-lottery regulations in New York, Denver and elsewhere. Proponents of pro-lottery legislation advance the following arguments in favor of their measures:

Repeal would produce public revenue, as shown by the millions that pour into coffers of other countries that permit, encourage or even promote lotteries and other forms of gambling.

People gamble anyway, so it might as well be legalized for purposes of raising revenue, thus reducing "hypocrisy."

These and other arguments are familiar, having been used in favor of repeal of liquor laws.

The principal arguments against legalization of lotteries are that the poor are most affected, losing their savings in a game of chance where the cards are stacked against them, as a class, from the beginning. A thousand ticket holders contributing $1 apiece will not win back an aggregate of $1000. If it were true they could, the promoters would receive nothing for their pains and the government could get no revenue. Governmental recognition of lotteries would encourage the gaming spirit in general.
 At one time lottery games were almost universal, whereas they are now prohibited in the most advanced countries.

The argument that government would profit by license fees, etc., is offset by the contention that money spent for lottery tickets is not spent in ways that would enhance government revenue otherwise, such as for theater tickets and small luxuries, not to mention food, clothing and more durable goods.

Revenue from lotteries would not necessarily cause government to reduce other taxes in proportion. Government tends to retain what taxes it has established, and to add other forms as fast as human ingenuity can devise them.

"YES, BUT—"
 In one of the recent addresses President Roosevelt found fault with men who favor his ideals, but have independent notions about application of them. He said he called them "Yes, but—" men.

They are a little more consistent than the president himself, however. They say "yes" to the purpose and
 "but" to the method. He states a position in words and does the opposite. For instance, speaking in Kentucky,
 he said:

"You are having a primary campaign for the choice
 of the Democratic candidate for the United States senate.
 Both are representative Kentuckians. I want to make it definite and clear to you that I am not interested in any shape, manner or form in the primary campaign in Kentucky. No outside source ought to drag on you."

That is definite. That is clear. But when the president says he is going to be frank, that he is going to make it clear, then is when we expect him to hand us something else.

Instead of using the word "but," he used the weasel word "nevertheless," to shift from what he said to the opposite of it.

"Nevertheless, I have a clear right to tell you certain facts," and in telling those facts he said things creditable to Senator Barkley, his candidate, and undertook to turn the people of Kentucky against Governor Chandler, who is the opposing candidate.

All that was in the next breath after he had said:
 "I want to make it definite and clear to you that I am not interested in any shape, manner or form in the primary campaign in Kentucky."

How can anybody follow a man who makes tracks in the sands of time like that!

TEAM WON MEET

A swimming team, representing Rochelle, composed of six girls and six boys, journeyed to Princeton last Tuesday evening to participate in an invitational meet, and returned home the victors. The girls team beat Princeton by a score of 63 to 19, while the boys' team barely nosed out their hosts by a score of 42 to 40.

The teams were composed of the following swimmers: Morrine Meis-

 girls; Lora Wong and Joan Caron, intermediate girls; Marietta Caron
 and Charlotte Palmer, senior girls.
 The boys' team was as follows:
 Junior Finkboner and David Fell, junior boys; James Osborne, in-

 Harris, senior boys. The team was coached, trained and managed by George Linnemeier, life guard at Spring Lake.

A return match has been scheduled for Spring Lake, to be held Wednesday, Aug. 3. The Rochelle municipal band will present their regular concert on the floating pavilion at the lake and a most enjoyable evening is anticipated by the members of the sporting committee of the Chamber of Commerce, who arranged the meet and furnished the transportation for the team. The team is grateful to John Maxson, Sr., C. J. Caron, Cliff
 Allen, A. K. VanArtsdale, and Alonzo McGinnis for their co-operation in furnishing cars and drivers for the trip.

In individual events the swim
 stars placed as follows:
 Jim Harris, placed first in diving
 in senior boy event.
 Joan Caron, placed first in diving
 in senior girls event.
 Junior Finkboner was second in junior diving event.
 Morrine Meisener placed first in three swimming events, backstroke, breaststroke, and free style.

The Methodist church will be closed for a three-week vacation
 period starting Sunday, Aug. 31.
 Rev. and Mrs. Paul Dibble and their children will leave on July 27
 to spend ten days at Long Lake,

EARLY BUSINESS ACTIVITIES TOLD ABOUT ROCHELLE

Log Cabin Was Used As the Community's First Store

CHAPTER V.

One of the first places occupied for business purposes in Rochelle was a little log cabin down near the river, on the green plat, opposite Mr. Flagg's old house. It was once a part of Mr. Cochran's house, at Jefferson Grove, and was torn down and drawn over from there
 a few years before the railroad came. It was first occupied by a man named "Bruin" Walker.
 Afterward, Lucius Flagg used it for a dwelling while he carried on a blacksmith shop in a little shanty located a short distance west of the south end of the present bridge.
 This show, which was about the first building occupied for business purposes in the city of Rochelle, was conducted by Mr. Flagg for nearly two years. During the summer when the railroad was being built, Lucius Flagg having removed, the log cabin in which he had lived was turned into a sort of grocery and supply store, under the proprietorship of M. J. Woodward, who had been connected with the railroad in some way.

Not Very Extensive.

This little forerunner of the future importance was not a very extensive affair and Woodward
 did not pretend to stay there much of the time. The key to the "store" was left with Mr. Flagg,
 at his house, and if a customer made his appearance, some one of the family would go down and wait on them, after which the concern was closed up as before. As soon as the stores up town were in operation, Woodward discontinued
 his little emporium, and the cabin was torn down.

About the first building erected in Lane for business purposes was a short of shanty, with a car roof.
 It was owned by some Johnson brothers who started up with a stock of goods costing $40, and they prospered so well that by the next spring they had it all on paper—
 their stock all gone, and nothing but slates and account books to show for it. Their groceries were chiefly of that variety that comes in kegs and barrels, and is retailed
 by the glass; but they kept a small line of tea and coffee, sugar, molasses, vinegar, candles and other necessities. Their establishment was known as "The Shades."
 "The Shades" Becomes Popular.

George E. Turkington became connected with the "Shades" and his genial qualities made it very popular. Of an evening most of the prominent men of the growing little village gathered there, engaged in social conversation or participated in the excitement of whist or euchre.

As mentioned earlier, the old
 "Lane Hotel" was built by Horace Coon the summer before the completion of the railroad, in 1853.
 "Abe" Adams, the lately arrived,
 did the carpenter work, and the hotel was looked upon as a great enterprise. Coon was host for several years, and under his management the hotel enjoyed a deserved popularity. It was finally sold to a Mr. Kendall, who ran it until about 1858 or '59 when Col.
 D. C. May, from Rockford, assumed control.

Distinguished Success.

The colonel officiated with distinguished success until about 1864
 and sold it to Asa Green from whom it was purchased by "Uncle"
 John Short of Aurora for the use of his son John and daughter Susan.
 The children assumed control as proprietors and sustained the popularity of the house until their retirement in 1865. Mr. Short sold to two men from Geneva who in two weeks transferred it to A.
 Simpson. He tore down the greater part of the old building and replaced it by a new one which for size, style and architectural beauty, was unsurpassed by that of any other town of equal size in the state for a number of years. When Mr. Simpson died, the hotel went into the hands of H. Brackett and was known as the "Brackett House."

David B. Stiles erected a store in 1853 and in the winter following he opened a stock of dry goods and groceries and was in full operation when the railroad came.
 Stiles had no competition of any importance until the next year when "Jerry" Barber entered in trade and did a rushing business
 from the start.

The personal history of "Jerry" Barber is closely interwoven with that of the city in those early days, and in another chapter of this series the accounts of "Jerry"
 will be unfolded.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. According to De Silva and Channel of the Harvard Bureau for street traffic research, an astonishing percentage of auto accidents is by the same persons who simply go on having accident after accident. A Connecticut study, published in Applied Psychology,
 shows the fact that for the past six years approximately 4 per cent of the drivers have had nearly 40 per cent of the accidents—10 times their quota! The Harvard bureau lists many causes for "accidental proneness" and "accident repeaters":
 —poor hearing, slow reactions, ill health, defective eyesight, etc., but since all these things run in many families by heredity it seems a fair inference that heredity plays its part in auto accidents as in everything else in life. (The name, Nam, is fictitious).

Answer to Question No. 2

2. It seems so. At least at Iowa University the scientists have found that the brain waves from the go-getter type of person and the quiet, reserved person are of just about the same type although they are quite different when these persons are awake. Apparently all men are born unequal—except when they are asleep.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Popular belief may disagree with this but, according to Science

Service, Dr. J. E. Janey of Western College has found that girls who have a large number of girl friends have more dates than those who are less popular with girls.

They also get better grades, admire
 other women more and are better at athletics. At first I thought it would be just the other way, didn't you? But, on reflection, I know that is just the way a psychologist or biologist would have expected it to turn out because as they would put it, "good qualities are correlated."

NEW HIGH QUALITY
AT A
New Low Price

IF YOU want to save 25% on tires, stop in and see the new Firestone Convoy Tire—the value
 sensation of 1938. You will find it has everything
 you want—safety,
 mileage, blowout
 protection, new design,
 new smart appearance—
 all at a remarkably new low price. And when you see it you will agree that Firestone has again set a new all time high in tire value with these outstanding features.

New High Quality—
 First choice rubber and cotton selected that conforms to Firestone's high standards and rigid specifications.

Long Mileage—Safe, silent
 tread design made of tough, slow wearing rubber that assures long mileage.
 Sturdy bars and rugged
 notches give protection against skidding.

Blowout Protection—Nine
 extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord by the Firestone Patented Gum-Dipping process. Every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber which counteracts internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.

Puncture Protection—Firestone's patented construction of two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords under the tread protects against punctures.

NEW LOW PRICES—because Firestone saves money by controlling and securing rubber and cotton at the source and by more efficient manufacturing and distribution. These savings make possible the extra values at these new low prices.

Let us put a set of these large sized, rugged, long wearing Firestone Convoy Tires on your car today, then your car will be ready for trouble-free summer driving.

COCHRANE GOING ROUNDS SEEKING PITCHING FORCE

In Celebrating Gabby's Elevation Cubs Split a Twin Bill

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer
A Washington baseball writer, taking relief from the heat outside, ran into Mickey Cochrane browsing around among the mummies in a capitol museum a couple of mornings ago.

"What," asked the astonished scribe, "are you doing here, Mickey?"
The Detroit Tigers' manager glanced cautiously over each shoulder, sh-n-e-d the scribe with finger to lip, leaned over and whispered, "I'm looking for a couple of pitchers."

And there, boys and girls, you have the newest and deepest of the blues—the Cochrane chant, the moan that accompanies the Tigers' drop from fourth to sixth place in two weeks.

It was a tough break that Mickey lost a lot of his power when Roundhouse Rudy York was sent to a hospital yesterday, hit on the head by one of Monte Weaver's pitches while the Senators were twisting the Tiger's tail, 4-3.

Bitter Medicine
But a tougher dose to take is that the pitching, pride of the American league only a couple of years ago, is a "cousin" to the rest of the loop right now. Schoolboy Rowe is gone—back to the minors. Tommy Bridges hasn't started a game since June 28. Roxie Lawson's luck has run out. And Vernon Kennedy, who looked like the extra dividend on that White Sox deal, has lost three in a row—hasn't won, in fact, since June 22.

On top of that, Mickey, who thought he was weeding out the whackiness by trading Gerry Walker to Chicago, and who thought he had a lot of pitcher in Poof Poffenberger, is having a rude awakening on both counts. For Poof still has something to learn about the pitching business, but has graduated with honors and a master's degree from the Daffy school. He disappears for days at a time; his training ritual just isn't, and he forgets to cover first when the other fielders are busy. Quite a lad is Poof. It got so bad yesterday Mickey had to send him home—but before they could get around to giving him his ticket, Poof had disappeared.

Pirates Hold Lead
Over in the National League, the Pirates maintained their game-and-a-half lead by whipping the Phillies, 5-4, on Lee Handley's triple with the bases loaded in the ninth. The Giants stayed in the thick of things by trouncing the Cardinals, 5-2, on Carl Hubbell's five hit pitching.

The Chicago Cubs, celebrating Gabby Hartnett's debut as manager, split a twin bill with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Clay Bryant tossed a four-hitter and the Cubs took the opener, 5-2. In the nightcap, Luke (Hot Potato) Hamlin, got hot, set the Cubs down for two hits, and the Dodgers won, 1-0, on Dolph Camilli's homer. The Reds and Bees weren't scheduled.

The Tigers-Senators game, for the second straight day, was the only American league tilt, everything else, including the Yanks-Indians doubleheader, being rained out.

ASHTON VICTORIOUS
Six hundred softball fans saw Ashton teams take two games from the Rockford Negro players last week. The girls defeated the colored girls 21 to 6 and the home team lads walloped the Rockford boys 12 to 9. The Rockford girls committed 12 errors and peppered the game with several arguments about decisions.

SWIM TO VICTORY
A swimming team, representing Rochelle, composed of six girls and six boys, journeyed to Princeton last Tuesday night to participate in an invitational meet, and went home with the honors. The girls' team swam circles around the Bureau county fives to win 63 to 19. The boys had a hot time in the cool water to escape with a thin margin in a 42 to 40 score. A return match has been scheduled for Spring Lake, at Rochelle to be held Wednesday, August 3.

Ettore Picks Tony Galento for Winner
Philadelphia, July 22.—(AP)—Al Ettore, who has fought them both, picked Tony Galento today to knock out John Henry Lewis "within five rounds" in their 15-round fight here next Tuesday night.

With the colorful, beer drinking Galento rated the foremost contender for the heavyweight championship by the National Boxing Association, every fight expert in the country will watch how he fares against Lewis, the light heavyweight champion.

"Tony's a mauler," said Ettore, Philadelphia who has fought all the leading heavyweights, including Champion Joe Louis, in the last few years.

"He does everything but bite you."

Americans Stampede International Meet

Stockholm, Sweden, July 22.—(AP)—Athletes from half a dozen European nations and the United States started the third day of their three-day international meet today with no one in sight able to head off the stampeding Americans.

Fred Wolcott, the sensational sophomore hurdler from Rice Institute, and Ben Johnson, ex-Columbia captain, were outstanding as the Americans won five of seven events yesterday.

Wolcott won his second race in two days in the 110-meter hurdles in 13.9, only two-tenths of a second away from the accepted world's record of Forrest (Spec) Towns.

Johnson completed a sweep of the sprints by winning the 200 meters in a respectable 20.9.

MINOR LEAGUE CROWN WARRIORS IN FAST RACE

Kansas City, July 22.—(AP)—The Kansas City Blues finally caught up with Les Willis of Louisville.

The Louisville pitcher's slants paralyzed the Blues at the plate for four previous games this year but he succumbed to the American Association league leaders yesterday in a 12-inning struggle, 5 to 4. In the first game of a double-header, Willis settled down after allowing four runs in the first four innings so his mates could tie the score. Beginning the fifth he turned the Blues back without a hit for seven innings, but Harry Davis singled in the 12th inning, the spell was broken and the Blues won. Wes Flowers held the Blues to four hits in the seven inning second game and the Colonels won, 10 to 0.

St. Paul went back into a tie for the lead by beating Columbus, 3 to 1.

Milwaukee, meanwhile, moved within four and a half games of the leaders and threatened to make the already dizzy race dizzier by beating Indianapolis, 4 to 0, as Whitlow Wyatt, chattel of the Brooklyn Dodgers, and the association's strikeout king, letting the powerful Indians down with a measly five hits. The Brewers showed no respect for leading pitcher Vance Page, nicking him for 10 hits and handing him his fourth defeat as against 14 victories.

Minneapolis beat Toledo, 3 to 2. The same teams were scheduled to play today.

Decatur Still Threat In Three-Eye League

Chicago, July 22.—(AP)—Decatur may yet be a big factor to consider in the Three-Eye Baseball league race.

The Commies tangled with the leading Evansville Bees last night and came away with the victory, 3 to 2. The Commies pushed lone runs across in the sixth and seventh, and the Bees tied it up in the eighth only to have Decatur score the deciding run in the final inning.

Bob O'Farrell's Bloomington club kept up its swatting pace and banged out 16 hits off three Springfield pitchers to win handily, 10 to 7. The victory brought the Bloomers within a game of fourth place.

Clinton hammered out 14 safeties and won over Moline, 9 to 1. The Waterloo-Cedar Rapids game was rained out.

The schedule called for the same teams to meet today.

CLOUDS, CLOUDS GO AWAY; POTTS WANTS TO PLAY

The early morning downpour wrinkled the brow of Paul Potts, manager of the softball league's flagpole sitters. The cats and dogs that came down thodday aren't going to help the situation at the Airport ball yard tonight, but unless it rains this afternoon, the much-heralded contest between the California Markets (unbeaten) and the rival camp, Black Farms (one down) will go on per scheduled.

The game starts at 7:30 and holds the spotlight as the most important contest this afternoon in the league. Benson is reported to be the Black Farms pitcher, while Ernie Morris who hasn't walked a man thus far this season, will take the mound for the Markets.

A large crowd is expected to support this pumpkin ball contest.

Swim Crowns to go on the Block Today

Santa Barbara, Calif., July 22.—(AP)—Four American championships, two of them owned by Florida's liltesome water queen, Katherine Rawls Thompson, go on the block today as the Women's National A. A. U. aquatic meet gets underway at a fashionable Santa Barbara seaside hotel.

Blonde Katy, heroine of many a swimming meet and winner of some 29 titles during her career, was due to defend her grueling one-mile freestyle title, and the 300-meter individual medley title.

Forty-one girls and young women were entered in the three-day meet.

Elizabeth Ryan of the New York Women's Swimming association faced a struggle in defense of her 100-meter title while seven candidates were out to dethrone Los Angeles' Marjorie Gestring, the little miss who holds the Olympic Games and national three-meter diving crowns. Her rivals included youthful Barbara Cook of Indianapolis, national junior champion.

The Trans-Siberian railroad is 10,000 miles long, and is the world's longest.

LEGION LEADER TURNED HISSES INTO APPLAUSE

New York, July 22.—(AP)—Daniel L. Doherty, National Commander of the American Legion, turned hisses into applause last night when he parried audience resentment at a remark about "red professors" with the statement that the "freedom and democracy" of America made both the remark and the hisses possible.

Doherty spoke before the teachers college of Columbia University, which recently published a thesis criticizing Legion leaders as "reactionary." The thesis, written by Prof. William Gollman of Northwestern University, accused the veteran's leaders of a policy that throttled rank and file sentiments.

Doherty did not refer to Gollman in his address, but he appealed to Columbia to rid itself of "baleful influences."

"The time has come to draw a line between educators and propagandists," he said. "Freedom of speech is not involved in this question. True education is."

"If it were not for public apathy and listlessness toward the responsibilities of citizenship," he said, "we would not have these red professors."

Hisses interrupted him, but he waited until the noise subsided and then went on:

"The only right you have to hiss me is because this is a free and untrammelled democracy. If it were not for the freedom and democracy in this country, I would not have the freedom to say these things and you would not have the right to hiss."

Applause greeted the retort.

SKINNING JOE MILLER'S CATS ISN'T SO EASY

Bert Cummings' Boys Lose Decision at Reynolds Field

Bert Cummings with his Knacks tribe was out gunning for Wildcats last night at Reynolds field. Today Bert didn't have much to say about the open season on the cats, for Smokey Joe Miller's lads refused to be targets and took a victory, 7 to 5.

Cummings used three pitchers. Ole Prestegard, H. Prestegard and Kupper, in an effort to tame the Wildcats, but in spite of the trio on the mound the Old Timers (Wildcats, to you) clocked seven hits and cashed in at the end for a winning ticket with an equal number of runs

Zmuda is the most prominent successor to the late Clem Sohn who was recently killed in Paris, France, while giving a similar exhibition. This event in itself should be sufficient to warrant a large attendance at the Air Show at the Dixon Airport next Sunday afternoon. DAFFY CAMPAIGN IN TEXAS NEARS FERVID CLIMAX

Swing Bands and Hill-Billy Songs Used to Lure Voters

Austin, Tex., July 22—(AP)—Texas scanned a bulky field of candidates today in the final hours of a Democratic primary campaign which left political observers dumbfounded and citizens hilarious. The rib-ticking gubernatorial campaign, daffiest in a decade, ends tonight in a melange of side-show tactics. The cause of it all was W. Lee O'Daniel, the "Biscuit Man" from Fort Worth, who tossed chaos into a dignified race. Political leaders forecast a record vote—more than a million—tomorrow. Six weeks ago, O'Daniel, a flour merchant who advertised his wares over the radio with a hill-billy orchestra, was possibly the least-mentioned aspirant to the governor's chair. Overshadowing the ruddy-cheeked Irishman was what he calls the "professional politicians"—masters of platform warfare like William McCraw, red-haired attorney general; Ernest Thompson, railroad commissioner and chairman of the interstate oil compact commission; Karl Crowley, former solicitor for the postoffice department; and Tom Hunter, who had put up several races for governor.

Matter of Days

It was only a matter of days, however, before the electorate began to know O'Daniel. Accompanied by Pat, Mollie and Mike, his children who helped entertain, he swung into town without advance political organizing. He set his hill-billy band to playing his own composition, "Beautiful Texas," and launched into a speech against the "professional politicians." The baffled opposition sighed and took the hint. Orchestras, quartets, and similar entertainment appeared on other platforms. Battles for Congress drew attention, too. Maury Maverick of San Antonio was in for tough sledding against Paul Kilday, San Antonio lawyer, Rep. Hattin Sumners of Dallas was opposed by Tom Love and Leslie Jackson, both of Dallas.

The Misses Lois Fitzsimmons and Patty Jean Curran have returned from a brief visit in Sterling. Mrs. W. D. Drew of Detroit, Mich., arrived yesterday morning for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Florence Krug.

Confesses to Police He Embezzled Funds

St. Louis, July 22—(AP)—A man who identified himself as Alfred Lloyd Carlson of Racine, Wis., surrendered today. Chief of Detectives John J. Carroll announced, and said he had embezzled about $2500 from an insurance company. Carlson, 35, told Carroll he was a part-time agent for the National Mutual Benefit association in Racine. He said he also was employed at a bottling works but his combined income of $100 a month was insufficient to support his wife and two children. From time to time over a period of four years, Carroll said, Carlson took amounts of not more than $20, representing premiums paid by policyholders, and used the money for household expenses and occasionally for gambling. Carlson came here by bus last night, he said, after an audit of his accounts was started at Racine. After wandering about all night, he finally decided to turn himself in and return to Racine to "face the music," he told Carroll.

Rosendahl Insists He Was Consistent

Lakehurst, N. J., July 22—(AP)—Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, U. S. naval expert on airships, today defended his advocacy of the sale of helium to Germany with the assertion that high governmental officials, including Secretary Ickes, have held the same opinion.

The commander of the naval air station here answered in a lengthy statement the charge of the secretary of interior that Rosendahl changed his mind about the military importance of helium after being "wined and dined" in Germany. Rosendahl expressed confidence that a "conscientious and full comparison of my airship talks and articles with my recent book on the subject will show my stand to have been entirely consistent."

G-Men Worth $7.64 for Every $1 Cost

Washington, July 22—(AP)—J. Edgar Hoover figured today that activities of the G-Men last fiscal year were worth $7.64 for every $1 they cost. Hoover, reporting as director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, put the valuation figure at $47,568,419. The sum represented stolen property recovered, fines imposed or savings effected. Hoover added that FBI agents had solved 124 kidnappings or 127 investigated since passage of the Lindbergh kidnap law in 1932.

The unsolved kidnappings are those involving little Charles Mattson at Tacoma, Wash., December 26, 1936; Arthur Fried, 32-year-old contractor, White Plains, N. Y., December 5, 1937 and 12-year-old Peter Levine, New Rochelle, N. Y., February 24, 1938. The two boys were slain.

FAMILIES FLEE BEFORE FOREST FIRE IN WEST

Seattle, July 22—(AP)—One hundred families fled before a great forest fire on Vancouver island today, abandoning their homes in the small settlements of headquarters and Doug creek.

Police Constable C. Ramsey reported to headquarters at Victoria however, that the settlements were in no immediate danger. Evacuation was ordered as a precautionary measure. He said the dangerous 5,000-acre blaze had approached to within two or three miles of the villages.

Sabotage in British Columbia and incendiaryism in Washington state and Oregon were considered the chief obstacles to a successful fight against the devouring fires in Pacific northwest forests.

British Columbia forestry officials began weeding out groups of men they termed "inexperienced" fire fighters after 1,000 feet of fire hose was made useless by long knife gashes.

Incendiaries were blamed for spreading many fires. Officials expressed belief the "fire bugs" were unemployed men seeking work as fire fighters.

his mother was indignant that her son worked on Sundays, and commanded that he leave that post.

So he turned to farming. Though inherent ill health was increased by malaria, by poor living conditions, and by work beyond his strength, he stuck it out for a year and a half, and then went back to town.

He became a coffee and tea salesman, going from door to door, earning $9 a week in commissions in fortunate weeks. Then he yielded to the offer of a rival concern, lost orders through the poor quality of the goods he had to offer, but found a cardinal principle.

"The more I saw of people," he explained later, "the clearer became the realization that they could not be fooled. How I served a customer had something to do with why she bought. Price and appearance had something to do with it. These made a first sale. But what made re-sales was the satisfaction found in the article itself when put to use. If that failed, all failed, and the customer was lost."

Opened Own Store

An offer of management from the inexperienced owners of a failing store gave opportunity to test his theories. Eleven months later the store showed a profit, but the owners would not meet his terms for continued employment. Promptly he and a friend opened a little store of their own. All they had was investment in the stock and in a smart-appearing horse and buggy wagon.

Two weeks later the horse was killed and the wagon smashed in a grade crossing accident. Then, one of Kroger's brothers died, and there were heavy funeral expenses to be met. Less than a month later the Ohio river overflowed and flooded the store.

Yet, by year's end, the store was prospering, established, with not a debt outstanding. Then Kroger bought out his partner for $1,500, and expansion thereafter was merely the result of the demand for price and quality that the big buyer could enforce.

Kroger was married twice, first, in 1886, to Mary E. Jansen, of Newport, Ky. She died in 1899, survived by four daughters and three sons. In 1928, Kroger married Alice P. Maher, of Washington, D. C.

BALLY-HO FOR—

the conservative Democratic chairman of the powerful House rules committee whose scalp is being sought by intrinsig New Dealers, appeared possible today.

Tammany's backing was certain. The old hall last night picked O'Connor for renomination, along with other House members from New York City who have been far from consistent in support of President Roosevelt.

While Republican help for O'Connor was not assured, suggestions that he be designated as the party's candidate were favorably discussed in a conference between Kenneth F. Simpson, Republican national committeeman, and party leaders in O'Connor's district.

G. O. P. ROUND TABLE
Chicago, July 22—(AP)—The round table session of the Republican program committee next month, Chairman Glenn Frank announced last night, would seek to determine the "proper scope of governmental responsibility for medical care."

Frank said the object of the discussion would be a "responsible scrutiny of a problem which is now of high national significance and which contains the possibilities both of great social advances and of great social errors."

Medical leaders of the country are listed as speakers at the meeting.

LEGAL OPINIONS BY TVA COUNSEL ARE IMPOUNDED

Knoxville, July 22—(AP)—Congressional investigators today impounded all legal opinions by TVA counsel with reference to changes in minutes of the board of directors of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The action was taken unanimously on motion of Representative Jenkins (R-Ohio), the committee impounding the legal opinions along with the actual minutes.

Charles Hoffman, assistant to the board, testified "all three directors" of the TVA—former chairman Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, and Directors David E. Lillenthal and Harcourt A. Morgan—had ordered changes in the minutes.

Hoffman said yesterday changes were made "mostly by Mr. Lillenthal."

Elaborating on this statement today, Hoffman said Lillenthal always called these changes to the attention of the other directors.

Lillenthal was scheduled to follow Hoffman to the stand to defend the administration of the TVA.

Dr. Morgan concluded his four days of testimony yesterday, most of it directed against his former associates, Lillenthal and Harcourt A. Morgan, present TVA chairman.

Hoffman said board minutes were changed many times—mostly by Mr. Lillenthal—and that he made deletions on orders from the director.

One of them, he said, concerned a statement that Wendell L. Willkie, president of the Commonwealth & Southern corporation, had agreed in negotiations with Lillenthal to the transfer of certain electric properties in the valley from private to public ownership.

FEDERAL REINS HELD BY HULL AS HEADS PLAY

Washington, July 22—(AP)—When is a Federal official the ranking head of the United States government and is not the Secretary? When he's Secretary Hull of a day like this.

The constitution says that if the President and Vice President should die, the Secretary of State succeeds them. But it doesn't say anything about vacations.

President Roosevelt is out in the Pacific. Vice President Garner is fishing in Texas.

Secretary Hull is in the capital—and is the ranking government official, but he is not the acting President. There isn't any such job.

He signs no presidential papers. People continue to call him "Mr. Secretary."

Secret service men don't cluster about him.

However, he can always say he came close to being President back in 1938.

$6,008,353 Taxes Must be Refunded

Washington, July 22—(AP)—The government stands to refund $6,008,353 collected under the repealed cotton and tobacco levies of 1934.

Internal revenue officials are preparing regulations to govern the system of making repayments, ordered by the recent congress. The Bankhead cotton control act and the Kerr tobacco act, by which the taxes were imposed, were repealed in 1936, after the Supreme Court invalidated the Agricultural Adjustment Act.

The 1938 congress also ordered refund of taxes collected under the short-lived potato act of 1935.

Collections of the cotton and tobacco tax by states during fiscal 1935 and 1936 included:

Illinois, $8,525.28; Kentucky, $2,103.69, and Missouri, $28,979.13.

U. S. SPENDING 'MORE FOR WAR' THAN EVER: NYE

U. S. SPENDING... u-s-a... N. Bloomington, Ill., July 22. — (AP)—Senator Gerald P. Nye (R-ND) in an address at Normal University last night, said the United States is spending more for war than at any time in history.

"An arms race ends not in peace, but in war, as all experience has shown," the senator said. "Yet this nation is participating in the greatest arms race the world has ever known. We ought to get out of this race now."

"Preparation for defense only could eliminate 90 per cent of the danger of our entry into a foreign war. The responsibility for this depression belongs at the door of our participation in wars of other peoples, and the greed for American profits in wars of other nations."

"Sweden, Norway and Denmark are enjoying prosperity because they kept out of wars and avoided the overwhelming costs."

Stating that "pressure guns" led the United States into the World War and are "booming again today," Senator Nye proposed an amendment to the constitution providing for a referendum on the country's entry into war and not by a vote of congress.

He also advocated a program of education on true cases of war, alert seeking for trustworthy leaders; destruction of possibility of any individual or corporation making profits out of war, and an amendment providing nothing "not even money or property" shall be more sacred than human lives.

DECATUR LABOR DISPUTE
Decatur, Ill. — (AP)—Further conferences were scheduled to settle a labor dispute between the school board and the teamsters and chauffeurs union over removal of dirt for construction of a $350,000 high school gymnasium and auditorium. Independent truckers bailed dirt under police protection. Union men quit work when their leaders demanded only union trucks be used on the WPA-sponsored project. The school officials said they were unable to meet the union scale of wages. Other phases of the project are being done by WPA union labor.

"TWO-GUN CHARLIE"
Hollywood, July 22—(AP)—It's Two-Gun Charlie McCarthy now. Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz has appointed Edgar Bergen's diminutive partner to his staff.

By DREW FEALSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

The final answer to 1940, of course, depends on the present primaries.

If the President succeeds in "purging" such leading New Deal foes as Senator George of Georgia and Senator Tydings of Maryland, the backbone of the undercurrent drive against him may well be broken and Roosevelt, having a free hand to pick his own man, will be content to step aside.

But if his pique flaps and the Old Guards return to Washington next winter stronger and sorer than ever, then Roosevelt in 1940 is a very distinct possibility.

PRESIDENTIAL PROTECTION.
Illustrative of the unusual Secret Service precautions to guard the President during his trip across the country was the arrangement by which relays of state motorcycle police escorted the special train through their states. Thus the train had a motorcycle escort all the way across the United States. In order to keep up with the train, the patrolmen often had to hit 80 miles an hour.

At the luncheon given the President in San Francisco, no one ever permitted to enter the dining hall with an overcoat on his arm or package in his hands. Police insisted that all wraps and bundles be checked.

In the open country between towns during the President's 150-mile motor trip from Los Angeles to San Diego, the Secret Service had marines, armed with loaded rifles, stationed on the ridges of all the hills.

MERRY-GO-ROUND.
Newsman accompanying the President labeled the tour "the water-conscious junket" because of his frequent reference to flood control and conservation.

Cafe au lait (coffee with a lot of milk) is Mrs. Roosevelt's breakfast drink in the summer. The President's specially constructed automobile, used for parades and other public occasions, is equipped with a two-way radio.

Son Elliott Roosevelt won $800 from a Washington correspondent on Senator Elmer Thomas' victory in Oklahoma. The newsmen bet $800 to $1000 on Gomer Smith.

Reason for the recent offers of Airlines to carry mail free of charge was not generosity on their part, but strategy to get in on the ground floor before the new Civil Aeronautics Authority fixes rates.

Col. E. M. Watson, the President's military aide, is being urged by New Dealers to retire from the Army and run against Senator Harry Byrd in 1940. Like Byrd, Col. Watson comes from an old Virginia family.

GOP FRIENDS.
President Roosevelt may have given Senator Pat McCarran the cold shoulder in Nevada, but Republicans are rallying enthusiastically to his support.

Not only have they put no candidate in the field, but many Republicans are registering Democratic in order to vote for McCarran. The Elko Free Press, leading GOP newspaper, urges McCarran's reelection because of his opposition to New Deal measures.

"Many Republicans are so interested upon returning him to the Senate," the paper declared, "that they are switching their politics. Some of them have been Republicans all their lives."

Note: The President said nothing directly unfriendly about McCarran, but the cold shoulder was made apparent at every stop in Nevada. Although McCarran appeared on the back platform, he was not permitted to introduce Roosevelt, and the only time Roosevelt did refer to the senator merely emphasized the underlying hostility.

The President thanked McCarran for some trout he had presented, then turned to Governor Kirman and lauded him for his "splendid co-operation with us in Washington."

LIBERAL SUCCESSOR.
On that issue, at least, Roosevelt has emphatically made up his mind. He may be undecided about a third term for himself, but in the matter of his successor there are no ifs, ands or buts.

Either the candidate will be a liberal of Roosevelt's choosing or he will upset the Democratic applecart. He will run himself in that event, or bolt the Democratic party and tie up with the LaFollettes to put a Progressive in the field.

1940 CONSCIOUS.
In private, the President is keenly 1940-conscious. No one could be otherwise after the spectacular first-hand evidence of his popularity, plus the definite information that his Democratic enemies are secretly busy already lining up convention delegates.

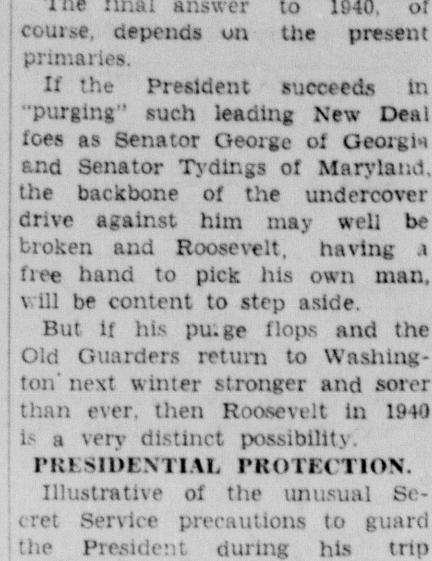

In several Western states, the President was told by local supporters that Vice President Garner has made quiet overtures to grab off those delegations.

Roosevelt also was tipped off that Jim Farley has been playing some very subterranean and delicate 1940 politics. No one seemed to know exactly what Jim was up to, but all local leaders who talked to the President were convinced Jim was laying his lines for delegates and that the Presidential branding-iron secreted up his sleeve did not bear the initials "F. D. R."

It was strongly suspected, on the other hand, that they read "J. A. F."

GOOD THOUGHTS

Kind words produce their own image in men's souls, and a beautiful image it is. We have not yet begun to use kind words in such abundance as they ought to be used.

—Pascal.

Life is made up, not of great sacrifices or duties, but of little things, in which smiles and kindnesses and small obligations, given habitually, will win and preserve the heart, and secure comfort.

—Sir Humphrey Davy.

There is no man so strong he cannot be won by gentleness. The power of affection is the most subtle force in the world, and interwoven in the lives of men whether they be among the greatest or the most humble.

—Abraham Lincoln.

The meaning of kindness is as plain to the little child as to the adult man or woman; for it is as universal as love itself. If there be much in the world of men today to be deplored, there is yet a great cause for gratitude in the fact that the Christly quality of kindness, revealing to all mankind the possibility of the kingdom of heaven at hand.

—Christian Science Sentinel

For the mountains shall depart, and the hills be removed; but my kindness shall not depart from thee, neither shall the covenant of my peace be removed, said the Lord that hath mercy on thee.

"I'm ashamed to take you to a party looking like that. Why couldn't you have waited one more day to have that sty on your eye?"

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

THE STAG, OR RED DEER, OF EUROPE IS KNOWN BY DIFFERENT NAMES DURING THE VARIOUS YEARS OF HIS GROWTH. FROM THE FIRST YEAR, UNTIL HE REACHES FULL MATURITY, HE IS KNOWN UNDER THE SUCCESSIVE TITLES OF: KNOBBY BROCKET, SPAYAD, STAGGARD AND ROYAL HART.

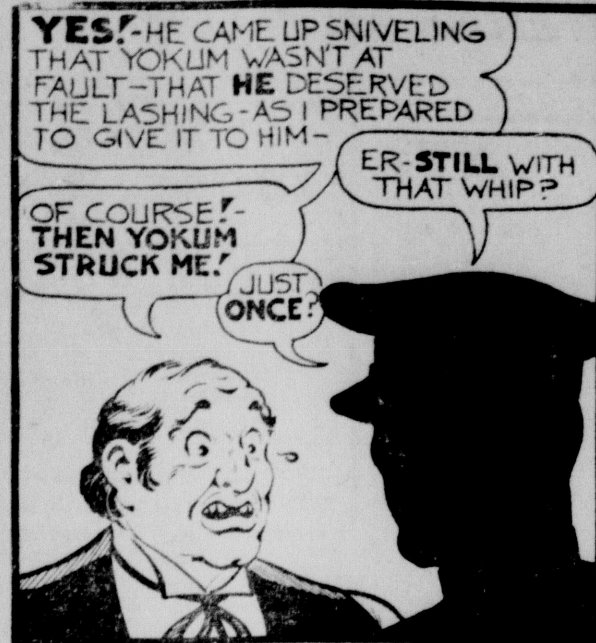

BASEBALL PLAYERS BORN WHEN CONNIE MACK BECAME A MANAGER ARE TOO OLD NOW FOR ACTIVE MAJOR LEAGUE SERVICE.

EACH year the male red deer grows a new set of antlers, and each succeeding set is more complete than its predecessor. The young "knobby," as his name indicates, has only a pair of knobs, but as a royal hart, he may have a magnificent three-foot spread of antlers weighing 70 pounds, decorated with a dozen or more points.

HEAD, DEFEAT LAST MAY, DEAD

Charles Howard, Leader in CIO, Found Dead in Colorado Hotel

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 22. —(AP)—Death left unfinished today one of Charles P. Howard's last assignments as president of the International Typographical Union and ended his unique position of serving two labor leaders bitterly opposed.
The colorful Committee for Industrial Organization secretary, who would have surrendered the presidency to an American Federation of Labor man Sept. 1, died last night at a Colorado Springs hotel following a heart attack. He was 59.

Howard came here Sunday to attend a meeting of the union printers' home board of trustees. After a session yesterday, he went to his hotel room where his wife, Mrs. Margaret Howard, found his body a short time later.
A veteran of numerous labor struggles, Howard incurred the wrath of William Green, A. F. of L. president, when he joined John L. Lewis and the CIO movement at its inception, though his union retained its A. F. of L. affiliation.

Defeated Last May

Claude M. Baker of San Francisco defeated Howard last May in a union election after a campaign fought on the issues of Howard's CIO connections. Baker automatically became president upon Howard's death.

The CIO secretary was a frequent critic of President Green, and was denied a seat at the A. F. of L. national convention in Denver last October.
Howard was born in Harvel, Ill., Sept. 14, 1879. He worked in Illinois coal fields as a youth, later learning the printer's trade in Chicago.

He was elected to the vice-presidency of the ITU in 1922, and succeeded to the presidency shortly afterwards upon the death of John McParland. James M. Lynch defeated Howard for the presidency in 1924, but he regained the post when he was elected over Lynch in 1926. He had held the position ever since.

Mrs. Howard said he will be buried in a plot he purchased several years ago near the printer's home cemetery. The Howards had no children.

LOVE ON THE RANGE

BY NELSON C. DYE

THE STORY SO FAR

Someone is out to bust the Rafter T ranch. To help lovely Lee Trone, "Blur" Ankrom takes a job under the name of Streeter. The range is wiped clean by rustlers, and a man and woman posing as friends of the Trones are revealed as impostors. The man is mysteriously shot, but the girl, Betty, stays on.

Chapter 19

Hurt And Anger

For a man to be sure that a thing is so, is one matter; for a man to be sure that a thing is so and then be forced to listen to some woman's corroboration of that unpleasant fact is quite another. In the days that followed Betty Struthers' revelation that Lee considered him a gun man Ankrom rode the range with bitter thoughts and somber countenance. His glance took on a colder inscrutability, his lips an unhappier twist. As foreman of the Rafter T he got the ranch work done, but his manner of getting it done warped the playful dispositions of his men and left them sullen as he was himself. As Alkali one day put it to Windy Jones, "Ridin' for this Streeter wolf is sure gonna sap every drop of the milk of human kindness from my system, Windy, ef I keep it up much longer. 'F it wasn't for Miz Lee, by cripes, I'd tell that dang slave driver a thing or two an' pull my picket pin an' drift."

"I expect you'd pull yore picket pin, all right," Jones grinned. "But if you want to handlin' Streeter any gas I don't reckon you'd do a heap of driftin'."

If Ankrom realized his growing unpopularity with the men, he must not have cared, for he gave it no attention nor modified his treatment. As much as possible he kept away from them, taking many long rides into the surrounding country. Visits to the home ranch were made no more frequently than absolute necessity demanded, and then were brief.

Two emotions swayed him—hurt and anger. He was hurt by the knowledge that to Lee Trone he was in much the same category as a bonnet—a thing of use to be discarded when its use was ended. His anger had been roused by a number of things, but chiefly by the discovery that Lee's reported opinion of his hired hand could so effectively throw him out of stride. To be sure, he had repeatedly reflected, her opinion of him was deserved. It was practically his own estimate of himself that first night of his arrival when they'd sat in the touring car together in the darkness of the stable.

At that time, however, she had rejected that estimate, had protested vehemently against it, and—blind fool—had believed her protestation sincere. He had taken pride in thinking that the only barrier to a friendlier relationship between them was the barrier raised by himself. That Struthers' dame was right: what he knew about women was best left unmentioned.

Ankrom's Side

He could quit the ranch, of course; he could throw this job in old Trone's face and go his way. That is, he could do so, had he not passed his word to see this unknown business through to the end. In Ankrom's code the moral acceptance of a commission was binding as the strongest contract; his given word was a thing by which he had always abided, and he must abide by it now.

It was early afternoon one day about a fortnight after his illuminating conversation with Betty, that Ankrom came riding in to the home ranch to find Lee Trone leaning against a post of the veranda.

Then she called him softly. To his surprise he found his horse moving toward her. Chagrined he suddenly swung the buckskin's head around and rode him in the opposite direction, dismounting stiffly by the pole corral.

Later he was eating a cold snack the cook had grudgingly got together when a shadow darkened the shack door and, looking up, Ankrom found Lee Trone's green eyes upon him oddly. In silence he continued eating. Let her stand there. He'd be damned if he'd speak first!

"Your education in manners, Abe, seems to have been neglected," she said coldly.

Resentfully he doffed his battered hat. The sunlight streaming in the open doorway struck across his rumpled sandy hair and burnished it like copper. He stood stiffly by the table and his glance held no sign of friendship.

"What do you want—?"

"I wanted to see you, Abe, but I didn't know you'd be eating. I called to you when you rode in, but I guess you didn't hear me."

"Well?" he said. "If you have somethin' on your mind, go ahead an' air it."

"To the Last Gasp?"

"There's an unpleasant change come over you in the last few days. If you don't like it here, you're free to leave when the notion strikes you," she told him coolly. "If you're in a hurry you can come up to the house and get your time right now."

Surprise showed in Ankrom's glance. Then his features resumed their former inscrutability.

"When I make a bargain I keep it. If you feel like releasin' me from my word, go ahead. But I'm tellin' you right now that I ain't goin' to be rid of that easy. I'm not gettin' out of this till the ol' man sends me walkin' down the road. Like I told your tough sheriff, I'm a gent that sticks to the last gasp!"

"You seem to have a pretty good opinion of yourself," she said with curling lip, then asked, "have you found out yet who's in charge of the rustling activities on this range?"

"No, I haven't yet—but I will."

"It must be nice to have such confidence as yours."

"Confidence, ma'am, is part of a gun man's stock in trade."

He saw that he had scored. The smile slipped off her lips.

"I could name a number of less desirable things which seem to be a part of you," she retorted.

"Yes, ma'am, I expect you could," he said and began twirling his hat. It surprised him to find that Lee Trone's charm was as effective as ever. Just being near her did things to him; accelerated his pulse; made his stormy heart miss beats, and caused his blood to flow more swiftly.

He resented her power to sway him. He felt ashamed to realize that he could still feel interest in a girl whose expressed opinion of him was steeped in cold contempt. What kind of a man was he? Did Lee Trone affect all men so?

His glance took in her overalls and woolen shirt, yet did not see them. He was conscious only that these rough clothes could not conceal the grace of her slender body, could not detract from the spirited poise of her head.

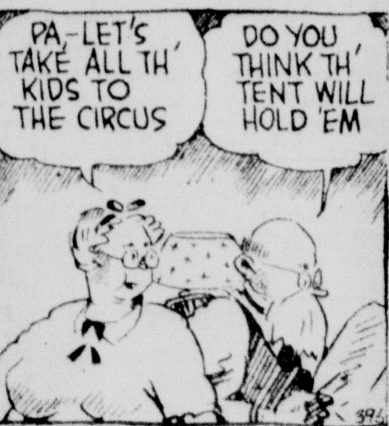

He said, "If the talk-test is over I'll get on with my eatin'."

The green eyes raked him furiously. The next moment she was gone.

More woman trouble, tomorrow

Brain Twizzlers

By
PROF. J. D. FLINT

Mr. and Mrs. Smith had a hard time realizing that the years had slipped by so quickly. It began to dawn upon them, of course, when their daughters, Mary, Marion, Margaret and Marjorie began to visit the house with their own children. Mary had little John, Joan, Jane and James. Marion had Lionel, Larry, Leslie and Loretta. Margaret had Susie, Sarah, Stanley and Sammy. Marjorie had Richard, Roberta and Rosalie.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith decided to give a circus party for their immediate families (you wouldn't leave those kids home if you were going to the circus, would you?) How many tickets were needed?

Answer to Yesterday's Twizzler—Seven men can be arranged around a table fifteen different ways so that no man has the same two neighbors.
